

101 Power Words to Make Your Web Copy Sizzle

The words you choose to describe your products and services can have a profound impact on your website visitors' reaction to your message.

For example, look at the phrase: "Learn how to train your dog."

What do you think when you read that?

Most likely, not much. You glance over it and then move on without a second thought.

Now, let's insert some "Power Words," which are essentially juiced-up versions of more common, run-of-the-mill words and phrases, to change our plain-Jane "Learn how to train your dog statement" into:

"Tap into 3 insider secrets that will crack the code of your dog's stubborn jumping behavior so that you can once again invite guests into your home – and reclaim your status as master of your domain!"

Can you see how much juicier and more enticing the second statement is? If you're a dog owner dealing with a dog who jumps, you can feel the pain of not being able to have guests over for fear of embarrassment or scratched-up, bruised guests (if you have a 80-pound jumping pooch, like I do ☺).

Now it's your turn to jazz up your website copy with 101 of the hottest Power Words used by the top marketers and copywriters around. (And if you want a full listing of 260 Power Words, plus step-by-step instructions on how to most effectively use them in your web copy, ready-to-publish web copy templates to help you quickly write compelling copy for your Home, About, and Services pages, AND one-on-one guidance in the form of email support and web copy critiques, visit www.WriteYourWebsite.com to check out the in-depth Write Your Website Workshop. And please note that this doesn't replace the Grand Prize as part of the Done4You Giveaway but rather acts as a supplement that you can access immediately to get you by until we have a chance to work together.)

Or read on to get your 101 Power Words and jumpstart your own sizzling hot website copy today! I suggest that you print this list out and keep it nearby anytime you sit down to write promotional copy for your business.
